

Dear Faculty Colleagues,

There are THREE separate strategic planning efforts that require faculty input in order to ensure that our interests are well represented among the University's priorities over the next decade. It is essential that a large number of faculty participate and help articulate our priorities at each of these public forums.

The Blueprint for Next: Carolina's Strategic Framework Nov. 3 and Nov. 9

Chancellor Carol L. Folt and University administrators will host a discussion about Carolina's strategies and priorities for the future. The University's Strategic Framework will help guide Carolina's decisions and shape its direction for the next decade and beyond. Small round-table discussions will follow a brief presentation. Faculty and staff are invited to join one of two sessions below.

Thursday, Nov. 3, 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.
Aquarium Lounge, FPG Student Union

Wednesday, Nov. 9, 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

Board of Governors' Strategic Plan Nov. 10

This system-wide plan will articulate a new set of goals and strategies to improve student outcomes and to expand access and affordability. The BOG Strategic Planning Forum will take place with senior leaders from UNC General Administration from 3:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, November 10 at the Center for School Leadership Development Board Room (located here).
