

October 4, 2017

Dear colleagues,

The Office of Faculty Governance, on behalf of the Committee on Honorary Degrees and Special Awards, is now accepting nominations for the university's 2018 Edward Kidder Graham Faculty Service Award to be presented at the October 12, 2018, University Day ceremony.

This award was established in 2010 to recognize outstanding service by a member of the Voting Faculty of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The award calls to remembrance President Graham's ambition to "to make the campus co-extensive with the boundaries of the State," in the context of the University's modern mission to extend knowledge-based service world-wide.

Any active member of the Voting Faculty is eligible, including those who are participating in the phased-retirement program. Awards are not conferred in absentia.

Full information about this award, including criteria, eligibility, past winners, and a link to the simplified process for submitting a nomination online, is available at <https://facultygov.unc.edu/awards/edward-kidder-graham-award/>.

Nominations are due on November 6, 2017. If you have questions about the nominations process, please contact the Office of Faculty Governance at 962-2146.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Steve W. Matson".

Steve W. Matson
Chair of the Committee on Honorary Degrees and Special Awards
Professor of Biology
Dean of The Graduate School

Pictured above: Eugenia Eng, a professor in the Department of Health Behavior at UNC-Gillings and a trailblazer in community-engaged scholarship, receives the Edward Kidder Graham award during University Day. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill celebrates the laying of Old East's cornerstone 223 years ago marking the founding of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the reason University Day is celebrated each year. The annual commemorative ceremony was held in Memorial Hall October 11, 2016. (Jon Gardiner/UNC-Chapel Hill)

---