New Member Onboarding

Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR) Lissa Broome began the session by presenting and reviewing the FAR portion of the FAC Onboarding Document. As a Chancellor’s appointee, she serves at the pleasure of the Chancellor. The general duties of the FAR are to be an advisor to both the Chancellor and the Athletics Director especially regarding the academic success of student athletics, compliance, and the student-athlete experience at the university.

Johnson continued the discussion with an overview of the FAC charge. He also reviewed the leadership structure noting that Melissa Geil serves as Vice Chair. Johnson briefly reviewed the Academic Process for Student Athletes, committee topic groups, and the team liaison assignment process, and the experiences of current committee members as liaisons.

Michelle Brown, Assistant Provost and Director of the Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes (ASPSA) then discussed the academic support ASPSA provides student-athletes. Broome and Brown work together on the Academic Scorecard, which will be updated in Fall 2020, which compiles the public information about the academic performance of student-athletes. The ASPSA website has a link to a document prepared by Athletics Compliance on NCAA Rules Education for Faculty and Staff, https://aspsa.unc.edu/for-faculty-who-have student-athletes-in-class/, which members should review. The committee had a training session in FERPA in June 2018, which will be repeated this fall.

Athletic Director Bubba Cunningham provided a presentation on the state of athletics at UNC-Chapel Hill, reviewing a number of topics, including the NCAA membership and reporting structure, ACC membership and reporting structure, new coaching hires, finances of the department, Title IX, and compliance. Cunningham noted the challenges of sponsoring 28 sports, which is more than most schools. UNC has the largest number of student-athletes in the ACC. Student-athletes receive $17 million in scholarship support from the Ram’s Club each year. The impact of COVID-19 on the Athletic Department budget could be significant. Cunningham noted that some schools have already reduced the number of sports they sponsor.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:27 a.m.

I. Welcome and Introductions

Welcome and Introductions

Committee Chair Daryhl Johnson welcomed all attendees to the meeting. Committee members and guests introduced themselves.

Minutes. The minutes from the May meeting will be voted upon at the September meeting.

II. 2019-20 Review

Educational Equity

Erika Wilson (rotating off the committee) and Rita Balaban reviewed educational equity issues during the 2019-20 academic year, focusing on the performance of students of color, including student-athletes. At the May FAC meeting, Lissa Broome presented a draft document that followed up on the recommendations previously presented by Wilson, which included:

1. Seek to increase the diversity within the athletics department, including hiring a mental health specialist of color. Similarly, a more diverse set of tutors and counselors might be helpful.
   a. UPDATE: Dr. Jeni Shannon, Director for Mental Health and Performance Psychology, told FAC at our February 6 meeting that her unit and Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) are hoping to share another position and are looking for more diversity for the staff.

2. Provide an avenue for student-athletes of color to express themselves regarding salient social issues without fear of ostracization or retribution.
   a. UPDATE: UNCUT, https://www.uncutchapelhill.com/, a platform for student-athletes to share what’s important to them, tell their stories, and be themselves, provides a powerful platform for student-athletes.

3. Disaggregating more data regarding academic performance and providing FAC with access to that data to identify and monitor academic outcome gaps for subgroups.
   a. UPDATE: The Office of Institutional Research is looking at quantitative and qualitative data to help inform understanding academic outcome gaps among various subgroups of students.

Athletic Director Bubba Cunningham then shared with the Committee the department’s newly announced initiative geared towards promoting diversity, inclusion, and respect for others. The initiative is centered around the “5 V’s”: Vow, Voices, Venues, Vote, and Volunteer and is attached.

Aimee McHale expressed gratitude for this initiative, but she also emphasized the need for a systemic approach to address the more structural and institutionalized racism that our student-athletes face. Cunningham agreed with the importance of this approach and stated that the key to combating systemic racism should be with education, including racial equity training among coaches, faculty, and staff across all departments. Cunningham said the Athletics Department is arranging for diversity training for coaches, staff, and student-athletes. McHale and Smith-Ryan will present option for potential diversity training for FAC members. Student-athletes are free to speak on UNCUT and social media platforms and participate in protests, without retribution.

Faculty Engagement

III. Process Review

Overview of the Process

Emily Blackburn displayed and shared the Excel spreadsheet which indicates items of discussion over the past years’ meetings. This tracker is used to determine when the last time a process was discussed (organized by topic group), a guest was invited, or an external report was received. The tracker links directly to minutes from previous meetings and is located in the reference materials folder on Sakai.

Johnson reviewed the committee’s charge and emphasized the difference between advising the Chancellor and overseeing athletics. FAC’s job is to represent the faculty and inform the Chancellor, not to oversee the functions of the Athletics Department.

Virtual Meetings

The committee’s 2020-21 meetings will be virtual.

Topic Groups and Team Liaisons

Topic Group and Team Liaison assignments will be posted on Sakai. Robbi Pickeral Evans and Vince Ille can help connect FAC members with their team’s coach.
IV. COVID-19 Return to Campus

Cunningham said the Athletics Return to Action Roadmap (on GoHeels.com) mirrors the University Roadmap, while emphasizing the dynamic needs and issues facing the Athletics Department.

Student-athletes are returning to campus in phases and are tested upon their return. They are self-quarantined for the weekend while they await their test results. A student with a positive test would isolate for 10 days. Contact tracing is done and close contacts of someone with a positive test must quarantine for 14 days. All positive tests are reported to the Orange County Health Department. Teams will be tested prior to traveling to an away competition. Ken Pittman, the head of Campus Health, and Dr. Mario Ciocca, the head of Sports Medicine will advise the Athletics Department if team activities need to be suspended for health reasons. If a student-athlete elects not to participate in athletics this year, the student’s athletics aid will be protected.

The committee engaged in a discussion about the University’s plans to bring students, faculty and staff back to campus safely. The committee also discussed the various off ramps and protocols that should be adhered to if an outbreak should occur among student-athletes.

V. Name, Image, and Likeness Discussion

California, Colorado, and Florida have adopted Name, Image, and Likeness (NIL) legislation that would supersede current NCAA rules. There is a delayed effective date in each state, but the Florida legislation becomes effective July 1, 2021. Similar legislation has been introduced in many other states. The NCAA and the Power 5 Conferences have approached Congress seeking federal legislation that would preempt these state laws and give the NCAA a safe harbor from antitrust challenge for any limits or guardrails it might impose as it modernizes its approach to NIL. The NCAA is simultaneously proposing a rewrite of its NIL rules. Cunningham is concerned about how recruiting will be affected once student-athletes may commercialize their NIL. He wants a path to a professional sports opportunity for all student-athletes who are not interested in academics and wish to immediately profit from their athletic talent. This area is continuing to develop.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:48 a.m.

Respectfully submitted by Lissa Broome (with assistance from Emily Blackburn)

The Academic Scorecard for Student-Athletes
The Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR)

Lissa Broome was appointed as the FAR by Chancellor Holden Thorp effective July 1, 2010. Professor Broome is the Burton Craige Distinguished Professor in the School of Law. She also directs the law school’s Center for Banking and Finance.

The FAR is appointed by the Chancellor from among the voting faculty for an indefinite term, subject to formal review at least every five years. A review committee appointed by the Chancellor reviewed Professor Broome’s performance as FAR in 2015.

The general duties of the FAR are to serve as an advisor to the Chancellor and the Director of Athletics and as a liaison to the faculty. Areas of focus include the academic success and academic integrity of student-athletes, compliance with ACC and NCAA rules, and a positive student-athlete experience at the university. The FAR makes an annual report to the Faculty Council and makes special reports to the Council from time to time as may be requested by the Agenda Committee. The FAR’s annual reports are available at https://facultygov.unc.edu/committees/elected-committees/athletics-committee/.

Within the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC), four individuals from each member institution have the primary governance and operating responsibility. They are the chancellor/president, the director of athletics, the senior woman administrator, and the faculty athletics representative. The FAR is the university’s voting delegate to the ACC and the university’s faculty representative to the NCAA. Professor Broome finished her one-year term as the President of the ACC on June 30, 2017. She serves on several ACC committees, including the Finance Committee and the Autonomy Committee, and on the NCAA’s Postgraduate Scholarship Committee.

Since mid-2017, the Chancellor has provided Professor Broome with a $20,000 per year stipend and some part-time administrative support. The Chancellor reviewed the release time, compensation, and administrative support provided at other ACC schools to the FAR. Administrative support was initially provided by Emily Godwin Summers and transitioned in May 2020 to Executive Assistant in the Office of the Chancellor, Emily Blackburn.

The FAR is an ex officio member of a number of campus committees including the:

- Faculty Athletics Committee (voting)
- Special Talent Subcommittee of the Undergraduate Admissions Committee (voting)
- Educational Foundation Executive Board (non-voting)
- Faculty Advisory Committee to ASPSA
- Executive Committee on Student-Athlete Academics

The FAR meets each month separately with the Chancellor, the Athletics Director, the Associate Athletics Director for Compliance, and the Director of ASPSA. The FAR reports to the FAC at each of its meetings on proposed NCAA legislation (Division I and for the Autonomy Conferences), activities of the ACC, and other efforts on campus related to student-athletes.
The Faculty Athletics Committee (FAC)
The committee’s charge is stated in the Faculty Code. The committee: “informs and represents the faculty and advises the chancellor on any aspect of athletics, including, but not limited to, the academic and broader university experience for varsity student athletes and the general conduct and operation of the University’s athletic program.” Faculty Code § 4-7(b).

The committee is composed of twelve elected members from the voting faculty who serve staggered three-year terms. No person may serve more than two consecutive full terms. The FAR is an ex officio, voting member of the committee, if not otherwise an elected member of the committee.

The committee meets monthly during the academic year with the Chancellor, the Director of Athletics, the Senior Associate Director of Athletics, the Director of ASPSA, and two student-athlete representatives.

http://facultygov.unc.edu/committees/elected-committees/athletics-committee/.

The committee also has a Sakai site which contains materials for each meeting, going back to the 2012-13 academic year. Any member of the committee may post material to the site. An email may be sent to all committee members at facultyathletics@sakai.unc.edu.

Leadership Structure
The Chair of the committee for 2020-21 is Daryhl Johnson. Melissa Geil serves as Vice Chair.

Academic Processes for Student-Athletes
In Fall 2013, Provost James W. Dean, Jr. and Director of Athletics Bubba Cunningham brought together a 10-person team of campus leaders to comprehensively document and assess all academic processes that affect student-athletes from the time that they are recruited until after they graduate. With Chancellor Carol L. Folt’s support, Dean and Cunningham led the Student-Athlete Academic Initiative Working Group in this effort. The Working Group was charged to look holistically at academic processes for student-athletes and improve student-athletes’ experience at Carolina.

The Working Group met at least once per month between November 2013 and March 2015. By summer 2015, the Working Group had documented, assessed and in some cases changed, a comprehensive set of 21 academic processes for student-athletes, from the time they are recruited until after they graduate. The Group considered and responded to more than 70 recommendations from nine reports about athletics and academics at UNC-Chapel Hill published during the previous four years.

With leadership and coordination provided from the Provost’s Office by Dr. Debbi Clarke, the Working Group compiled and posted its documentation of these processes at http://apsa.unc.edu (academic processes for student-athletes). The Working Group was then transitioned into the Process Review Group (PRG), with many of the same members, whose goal was to review each process over the course of a two-year period. The PRG met two or more times each semester to review and improve each of the processes through Spring 2018.

In the summer of 2018, the PRG was sunset and the function of reviewing the academic processes on a regular basis was transferred to the FAC, with any recommended policy changes referred to the Executive Committee on Student-Athlete Academics. Its members are:

- Provost Bob Blouin
- Athletic Director Bubba Cunningham
- Faculty Athletics Representative Lissa Broome
- ASPSA Director Michelle Brown
Senior Associate Athletics Director Vince Ille
Senior Associate Athletics Director Dwight Hollier (Student-Athlete Health, Well-Being & Program Outreach)
Associate Athletic Director for Compliance Marielle vanGelder
Associate Provost for Strategy and Special Projects Dr. Debbi Clarke

The topic groups listed below will lead the review in FAC of the processes identified for each group. There will be periodic reports to, discussion items, and policy recommendations referred to the Executive Committee by FAC.

Topic Groups
Each FAC member is assigned to one of six topic areas:

1. Admissions
2. Advising and Enrollment
3. Academic Performance
4. Student-Athlete Welfare and Equity
5. Athletics Administration, and
6. Governance and Administration.

Two FAC members populate each group and one of the committee’s liaisons assists the group. Topic group members are expected to lead the review of the academic processes assigned to their group, with the assistance of the university resource people in this area. Lissa Broome and Debbi Clarke will help each group identify the relevant topic experts for each process. Topic group members will plan and arrange one or more presentations to FAC during the academic year on issues within their topic area and are expected to become familiar with the resources related to those areas on the website, https://apsa.unc.edu.

FAC members will benefit from a compilation of the FAC minutes beginning in Fall 2014 (prepared by Anna Rose Medley, updated by Emily Summers and now updated by Emily Blackburn), with an index of topics discussed by the committee. This resource contains a direct link to the relevant minutes and is also a starting point for FAC members for past FAC discussion of issues related to their topic groups. This spreadsheet is posted on the FAC Sakai site.

Potential Discussion Topics:
- Faculty engagement

Team Liaisons
Team liaisons are asked to try to meet with students, coaches, and the academic counselor(s) for their teams, perhaps by attending a practice, a team meeting, or scheduling a meeting with each group. The idea is that the liaison will be an additional point of faculty contact for the team and will be a resource for FAC about how actions may impact particular teams. There is a range of involvement and each FAC member is encouraged to find the level of interaction that fits best with their own schedule and the needs of the team. Robbie Pickeral Evans from Athletics can assist FAC members with outreach to their teams.

Committee on the Future of Sport
This Committee was created by Faculty Council Resolution in Fall 2015 and its members were appointed in the spring of 2016. The committee included some FAC members as well as faculty participants outside of FAC. The Committee organized a forum on September 14, 2016, on time demands for student-athletes and a forum on October 18, 2018, on mental health and student-athletes that featured the NCAA’s Chief Medical Officer, Brian Hainline. At the conclusion of the Fall 2018 program, the committee’s charter ended.

Recurring Events or Reports
FAC Listening Sessions or Open Forums (ideally each semester)
For several years prior to the creation of the Committee on the Future of Sport, the FAC arranged open forums for the University community for faculty and others to discuss issues related to intercollegiate athletics. The last forums were held on November 18, 2015 (2 participants) and March 2, 2016 (7 participants). These forums were discontinued during the period the Committee on the Future of Intercollegiate Sport was planning and hosting meetings. FAC will discuss whether and how to continue these sessions to maximize faculty engagement.

Budget Report (annually in spring)
The chief financial officer of the Department of Athletics, Martina Ballen, is invited to a FAC meeting each spring to review the Department’s budget with FAC. This report is organized by the Athletics Administration Group.

Meet with Coaches
FAC has had an annual meeting with head coaches since 2016. In 2017, the meeting also included assistant coaches. FAC last met with head coaches on March 31, 2020.

FAC Agenda Items and Posting of Materials – New Issues
A number of events come up during the year and are added to the agenda and addressed as they arise. The Governance group sets the Agenda for FAC. Members who wish to add items to the agenda should communicate those items to the Chair or Vice Chair at least a week in advance of the meeting date, if possible.

During the spring of 2018, the committee suggested that the following language be added to the FAC Onboarding document:

Materials relating to a FAC meeting should be posted at least 24 hours (and ideally 72 hours) in advance of the meeting. Advance posting is particularly important with respect to items on which action is expected to be taken at the meeting. The committee recognizes that sometimes it will need to be nimble and react to information that is posted within the 24-hour period prior to a meeting, in which case the poster should ensure than an email notice of the posting is circulated to the committee.

Attend Events
FAC members are usually invited to attend the following events should their schedules permit.

- Ram’s Club Scholarship Donor Banquet
  The Ram’s Club has included FAC members in one of their two banquets each year that include scholarship student-athletes and the donors for those scholarships.

- RAMMY’s
  The RAMMY’s is an end-of-year athletics award program similar to the ESPY’s.

- Academic Luncheon
  The Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes hosts an annual Academic Luncheon in the spring to honor student-athletes who have achieved at the highest academic level.

Special Considerations

FERPA
Assistant Provost and University Registrar Lauren DiGrazia and Assistant University Counsel
Kristen Lewis gave a presentation to FAC at its June 2018 retreat on the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). The PowerPoint is included in the materials on Sakai for that meeting. FAC members cannot share or release information from a student’s educational record unless they have the student’s consent. Information from educational records may be shared with University officials who have a “legitimate educational interest” in the information. Some of the information FAC reviews is in this category. FAC members need to be sure not to pass this information on to others (even within the University) who are not members of FAC and may not have the “legitimate educational interest” in the information. Ms. DiGrazia and Ms. Lewis urged FAC members to contact them with any questions before releasing even aggregated educational information.

Open Meetings
FAC meetings are open meetings and the date and location of the meetings must be publicly posted in advance of the meetings. Often members of the press, including the Daily Tar Heel, attend the meeting. It is only possible to go into a closed session for specific statutory reasons, which include to “prevent the disclosure of information that is privileged or confidential.” A motion to go into closed session must cite the statute, Article 33C, Section 143-318.11(a)(1) “to prevent the disclosure of information that is privileged or confidential,” and be made and adopted in open session. Only protected information can be discussed in the closed session. The committee may invite non-members to stay in the closed session if their presence is necessary for the discussion. At the conclusion of the discussion, the committee must return to open session.

Faculty Council
Faculty Council meets monthly during the academic year. The voting faculty elect delegates by division. The FAR and the FAC make an annual report to the Faculty Council, usually in the fall. An archive of the annual reports is on the faculty governance website at http://facultygov.unc.edu/committees/elected-committees/athletics-committee/. The FAR attends Faculty Council when her schedule permits so she may serve as a resource to the Council.

Admissions for Student-Athletes
Admissions Policies Relating to Student-Athletes
The Board of Trustees’ policy on admissions establishes a framework of competitive admissions and mandates that candidates be selected largely on the basis of the University’s “special responsibility to residents of North Carolina” and its “judgment of the applicant’s relative qualifications for satisfactory performance” in the program to which the applicant seeks admission. At the same time, this policy explicitly states that these two broad selection criteria:

shall not prevent the admission of selected applicants (a) who give evidence of possessing special talents for University programs requiring such special talents, (b) whose admission is designed to help achieve variety within the total number of students admitted and enrolled, or (c) who seek educational programs not readily available at other institutions.

The Statement on the Evaluation of Candidates for Admission, approved by the Advisory Committee on Undergraduate Admissions in September 2007, commits the University to “comprehensive and individual evaluations” of all candidates for undergraduate admission. These evaluations, in the words of the Statement, “aim to draw together students who will enrich each other’s education, strengthen the campus community, contribute to the betterment of society, and help the University achieve its broader mission.”

In keeping with this commitment, the Advisory Committee charges the Subcommittee on Special Talent with advising the Office of Undergraduate Admissions on the admission of students who, in accordance with trustee policy, “give evidence of possessing special talents for University programs requiring such special talents.”

Subcommittee on Special Talent Membership
The subcommittee consists of at least six voting members, the majority of whom are tenured or tenure-track faculty members in the College of Arts and Sciences. With the exception of the Faculty Athletics Representative to the NCAA and the Associate Dean for Academic Advising, who serve as voting members of the subcommittee ex officio, voting members are appointed by the chair of the Advisory Committee on Undergraduate Admissions and serve an initial term of three years.
Members appointed by the chair may be reappointed for one additional term but may not serve more than six consecutive years.

The subcommittee chair is appointed by the chair of the Advisory Committee and serves a term of one year. The subcommittee chair may be reappointed but may not serve more than three consecutive years.

Student-Athlete Admission Decisions
The Department of Athletics may make up to 160 recommendations to Admissions each year for student-athletes. Senior Associate Director of Athletics Vince Ille works with the coaches to determine the students who will be proposed for admission. Vice Provost Steve Farmer and his staff process these recommendations and determine which of these students need to be presented to the Subcommittee for its review and recommendation.

The Subcommittee will review applicants who have special talent and who

(a) have a predicted first-year GPA (PGPA) lower than 2.3;
(b) require review for possible breaches of community standards for academic or personal behavior;
or
(c) may only be admitted as exceptions to UNC-system policies because they do not meet minimum course or admissions requirements established by the UNC Board of Governors.

The PGPA is derived from an analysis of multiple years of data of student-athletes and is based on the NCAA core course high school GPA, the SAT/ACT score, and the program which the student is expected to join. Applicants with a PGPA below 2.3 are referred to as Group 1 and must be reviewed by the subcommittee. Group 2 is defined as those applicants with a PGPA of 2.3-2.6, and Group 3 includes applicants with a PGPA greater than 2.6. The subcommittee is attentive to the distribution of students in all groups, particularly those in Group 2, and to the distribution by team. The Subcommittee discusses each Group 1 candidate with the coaches, the Director of the Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes (ASPSA), and sometimes the ASPSA counselor to the team to understand the support structure that would be present for the student. In addition, the committee reviews the past performance of the students on the team which the student will be joining.

The UNC Board of Governors has established minimum course requirements (MCR) and minimum admissions requirements (MAR) for all students matriculating in the UNC system. The MCR is four years of high school math, including one year of math higher than Algebra 2, and two years of the same foreign language. The MAR, for admission in Fall 2013, is a minimum weighted high school GPA of 2.5 and an ACT of 17 or SAT (critical reading and math) of 800. BOG policy requires that applicants who are MCR or MAR deficient be reviewed by a faculty committee and reported to the Chancellor as “exceptions” to the BOG policy.

The review of student-athletes based on PGPA and classifying them in Group 1, 2, or 3 began in 2012-13. The PGPA replaced a set of criteria based on test scores and high school GPA which previously determined which students were reviewed by the Subcommittee. The consideration of the number of student-athletes recommended for admissions in the Group 2 and 3 categories has the goal to over time improve the academic profile of student-athletes by reducing the number of Group 1 and Group 2 students.

Since 2013, the Annual Report of the Advisory Committee on Undergraduate Admissions to the Faculty Council has included specific information about admissions of student-athletes.

- February 14, 2020 Faculty Council Meeting, https://facultygov.unc.edu/files/2020/02/Advisory-Committee-on-Undergraduate-Admissions-for-Feb2020-FC.pdf
Advisory Committee on Undergraduate Admissions and Committee on Special Talent

The Board of Trustees has charged the Office of Undergraduate Admissions with applying policies and procedures approved by the Advisory Committee on Undergraduate Admissions, a faculty committee appointed by the Chancellor. The Faculty Code charges this committee with “address[ing] the design and application of admissions policy, recommend[ing] guidelines for special talent and exceptional admissions, and monitor[ing] and respond[ing] to the national college admissions environment.” The Advisory Committee is chaired by the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences or his or her designee; members include at least two other deans, faculty members from various departments within the College, and administrators from Academic Advising, Student Affairs, Institutional Research and Assessment, and other offices on campus. The group typically meets four to six times per year and reports annually to Faculty Council.

Trustee policy provides for the admission of students “who give evidence of possessing special talents for University programs requiring such special talents.” As currently interpreted by the Advisory Committee, this clause applies to students recommended to the admissions office by the athletics department and by the faculty in music and dramatic art.

The Advisory Committee has established a Committee on Special Talent and has charged that committee with designing, assessing, and revising the guidelines and procedures that govern the admission of all special-talent students, including those recommended by athletics. As described above, the group meets regularly during the academic year to consider a small number of special-talent candidates—those who do not meet the minimum course or admissions requirements of the North Carolina public university system, and those whose predicted first-year grade-point average is lower than 2.3.

Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes

Role of the ASPSA
The role of the Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes (ASPSA) is to provide support for student-athletes to achieve academic success and graduate. This commitment to student learning supports the university’s mission to “teach a diverse community of undergraduates.”

Director and Reporting Structure
Dr. Michelle Brown took on the role of Director of the ASPSA in May 2013. Dr. Brown came to UNC-Chapel Hill from Florida Atlantic University where she served as the Associate Athletic Director for Academic Support and Student Life and Director of the Student-Athlete Center for Academic Excellence. Her work experience includes being an instructor at the university level, serving as an academic advisor for freshmen students, and serving as an athletic academic counselor for football. Her varied background contributed to her selection for the multidimensional role of Director of the ASPSA.
Coincident with Dr. Brown’s hiring, the ASPSA moved from the College of Arts and Sciences, where it was a unit within The Center for Student Success and Academic counseling (CSSAC), which reported to the Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education in the College of Arts & Sciences, to the Provost’s office. The Director of the ASPSA reports to the Provost, is an Assistant Provost, and the ASPSA staff are under the Office of the Provost. The ASPSA is not only housed under academics, it is part of academics as a unit intertwined with the colleges, faculty, and advising units.

Other Communications Lines

ASPSA Advisory Committee. This committee is described in more detail in this document and provides advice to the Director about ASPSA programming.

Faculty Athletics Committee. This committee is described in more detail in this document. The Director is an adviser to this committee and attends its monthly meetings.

Subcommittee on Special Talent. This committee is described in more detail in this document. The Director is an adviser to this committee and attends its meetings.

Funding
The ASPSA is an academic unit, but its financial support is provided by the Department of Athletics and the necessary funding is transferred each year from Athletics to the Provost’s Office to fund the activities of ASPSA.

Academic Advising
The ASPSA and the Academic Advising Program within the College of Arts & Sciences work collaboratively with student-athletes. Pursuant to a recommendation from a report issued in the summer of 2012 by a subcommittee of the Faculty Executive Committee and endorsed by the Chancellor, every student-athlete must see an academic advisor every semester. Two positions were created within Academic Advising in the College of Arts & Sciences at the Assistant Dean level and two individuals were hired for these positions. The College and its Academic Advising unit later decided that a team approach would be implemented by Academic Advising and that five advisors (including the two Assistant Deans as the lead) were identified as a core group that would work with student-athletes for a total of 2 FTE. The advisors also spend time in the Loudermilk Center (where ASPSA is located) so that they may work closely with the ASPSA counselors and so that they may be available to the student-athletes. At the May 2019 FAC meeting, Dean Lee May and ASPSA Director Brown presented the Student-Athlete Academic Advisement Plan that requires one-on-one meetings at critical points, but also permits other developmental activities as noted on the plan to fulfill the meeting requirement in other semesters.

Location & Staffing
The ASPSA is housed in the Loudermilk Center for Excellence, a 150,000-square-foot facility that opened in the fall of 2011 in the east endzone of the football stadium (under the Blue Zone). Within Loudermilk, the John W. Pope Student-Athlete Academic Support Center provides classrooms for teaching and tutoring, advanced computer technology, a writing lab, reading rooms and office space.

ASPSA Advisory Committee
This advisory committee consists of tenure-track and fixed-term faculty, as well as some appropriate full-time professional staff (EPA non-faculty) members. The committee has been in place since the mid-1980s and its level of activity has varied over the years. A report was issued by a strategic planning group dated September 1, 2011, which recommended that this committee be revitalized with a systematic and on-going program evaluation and assessment, serving as a sounding board for programming and providing advice on day-to-day issues as well as long-term planning. The Advisory Committee meets twice each semester. The 2019-20 Committee was appointed for staggered terms.

Definitions of APR, FGR, and GSR

APR – Academic Progress Rate. The APR standard for a team to be eligible for postseason play is a four-year APR of at least 930 (maximum rate is 1000). This is an NCAA metric based on the academic eligibility, retention, and graduation of student-athletes receiving athletically related financial aid. Points are awarded each semester per student-athletes on the basis of eligibility/graduation and retention. Each team member may earn two points per semester: one point for maintaining eligibility or for graduation, and a second point for being retained. Points may also be earned in specific cases when a student transfers or returns to the institution after time away and subsequently graduates. On a team with ten members, there would be a maximum of 40 possible points in an academic year. If two student-athletes on the team were not eligible in the spring semester and were not retained, then the hypothetical team would only earn 36 points (losing 2 points for each student during that spring semester). The APR in this hypothetical example is calculated by first dividing 36 by 40 (equals .9), and then multiplying by 1000 to get an APR of 900.

FGR – Federal Graduation Rate. This graduation rate is reported by the Department of Education’s National Center for Education Statistics as part of the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS). This metric is a six-year rate that includes students who matriculate in the fall semester and received athletic scholarship aid in their first semester of enrollment. The federal graduation rate counts student-athletes who left the University in good standing prior to graduation as nongraduates. This data is available for student-athletes at an institution and for the student body, so it is a way of comparing the performance of student-athletes with the student body.

GSR – Graduation Success Rate. The GSR is an NCAA metric and is calculated for student athletes who received athletics aid during their initial semester of enrollment. The GSR adds students who transferred into the institution and they are included in their original matriculation year cohort. The GSR also differs from the FGR in that schools are not penalized when a student-athlete with athletics eligibility remaining leaves in good academic standing to transfer to another institution, pursue a professional career, or for any other reason. Under the FGR, such departures are counted as failures to graduate from the institution of original enrollment, even if the student later graduates from another institution.

When people think about college sports, they most often think about Division I. Its teams are usually the ones broadcast on television, they have the highest profiles, and they are frequently subjected to public scrutiny.

The division is home to a wide range of schools with varying missions, admissions standards and athletics budgets. It includes some of the nation’s most highly selective universities in the country, and others with significantly lower admission standards.

Despite the differences, Division I schools share a commitment to the well-being of student-athletes, to creating sound academic standards and promoting fairness.

Led by the overall strategic vision of the Division I Board of Directors, comprised mostly of university presidents, the Division I governance structure provides autonomy for the 65 schools in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-12 and Southeastern Conferences to make decisions in specific categories. The rest of the Division is then free to follow those adopted rules.

When governing itself, Division I relies on the autonomy afforded it by the NCAA’s Constitution, which includes the Board of Directors and the Council as its highest governing bodies.

The Council has primary legislative authority, which includes conducting its meetings and passing its rules and legislation. The Board of Directors has responsibility to ensure that the Division follows its rules, resolve disputes and oversee the Board of Directors.

All members, including one from each NCAA region, can vote on Council business, and each region has two representatives and one alternate member as regional directors. Each member has one vote, with no majority of regions required to pass a proposal.

The NCAA Board of Directors is the top governing body that elects the Division I representative to serve as its Chair and vice-chair. The Division I representative is responsible for the governance and operations of the division, including the NCAA’s rules that govern the division.

A STRATEGIC PLAN FOR CAROLINA ATHLETICS
2017-2022

We Educate and Inspire Through Athletics
Based on concerns related to educational equity (based on race, but also based on SA status), the FAC group on Academic Performance (Erika Wilson and Rita Balaban) brought attention to this issue over the past two years. Erika Wilson prepared a memo dated June 14, 2019 in which she outlined three areas of focus to address the academic outcome gaps (between white SAs and SAs of color). Her suggestions are set forth below, along with discussion of some initial responses to those suggestions.

Resources Recommendations

1. Draw on University’s existing resources to assist SAs. Conduct an inventory of academic support services that are available across the University, assess how those services are being utilized by SAs. Include those University services available to support students of color and consider if there are ways to bring these services to Loudermilk to encourage SAs to utilize them.

2. Consider employing a social worker to provide wrap-around services to SAs, particularly in assisting with non-UNC/family issues that may be impacting their academic performance.

Responses

1. University support services for students (list still in progress)
   a. Overview of Campus Resources, https://studentsuccess.unc.edu/campus-resources/
   b. Academic
      i. Center for Student Success and Academic Counseling, http://cssac.unc.edu/:
         1. Peer mentoring
         2. The Learning Center
         3. The Writing Center
         4. Summer Bridge
         5. Men of Color Engagement
      iv. The Academic Advising Program, https://advising.unc.edu/ (hours at Loudermilk)
c. Specific to students of color
   i. Men of Color Engagement, https://menofcolor.unc.edu/
   ii. Start Strong Summer Transition, https://menofcolor.unc.edu/

2. The University has established a student care hub to provide students access to additional resources related to the COVID-19 pandemic, https://keeplearning.unc.edu/. A similar hub was established in the aftermath of Hurricane Florence, https://www.unc.edu/posts/2018/09/28/chancellor-announces-2-million-fund-new-hub-to-help-students-affected-by-hurricane/. These resources are, of course, available to student-athletes and could also be models of other support hubs for students and student-athletes.

Curriculum/College Readiness

1. First-year Seminar (FYS) courses. Enrollment in these smaller classes is limited to a maximum of two FYS in any one semester and a maximum of two FYS across the first two semesters. Enrollment in a third FYS requires an approved petition from the Associate Dean of First Year Curricula. Suggests exploring this further and consider advocating for a change in this policy.
2. Policy on Course Forgiveness. If a student repeats a class they failed, the grade received each time counts in the student’s GPA. This might discourage students from remaining in a course a full semester if they feel they are not going to pass or will receive a poor grade. A policy change of allowing a non-passing grade to be dropped from the GPA and replaced by a higher, passing grade might provide better incentives for students.
3. Adding more sections of entry level classes like English 100 and Math 110.

Responses

1. In the course clustering review, we learned that some students (including student-athletes) were taking more FYS than permitted by the policy. At the time, there was no way for the registrar’s office to preclude students from exceeding the limit. Senior Associate Dean Abigail Panter instituted a more direct way to monitor and enforce the policy, given the costs of offering these small enrollment courses. Based on this, it is unlikely that these enrollment caps will be lifted. The new undergraduate curriculum may offer more opportunities for small course experiences and student-athletes should be encouraged to take advantage of those opportunities.
2. Katie Cartmell (Academic Advising, chair of the group that’s looking at barrier policies) presented a grade forgiveness proposal to the Educational Policy Committee (EPC) in late April/early May for information and it was very well received. It will be on the EPC agenda for approval in August.

3. The English Department has been very good in working to provide enough sections of English 100 to support the students, including student-athletes, who need it. English 100 will not, however, be offered this summer since all instruction is remote.

Racial Atmosphere

The overall atmosphere regarding race at UNC could negatively impact the performance of students of color, including SAs. Although there this could be addressed on many fronts, Erika suggested the following actions:

1. Seek to increase the diversity within the athletics department, including hiring a mental health specialist of color. Similarly, a more diverse set of tutors and counselors might be helpful.
2. Provide an avenue for SAs of color to express themselves regarding salient social issues without fear of ostracization or retribution.
3. Disaggregating more data regarding academic performance and providing FAC with access to that data to identify and monitor academic outcome gaps for subgroups.

Responses

1. Dr. Jeni Shannon, Director for Mental Health and Performance Psychology, told FAC at or February 6 meeting that her unit and Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) are hoping to share another position and are looking for more diversity for the staff.
2. UNCUT, https://www.uncutchapelhill.com/, a platform for SAs to share what’s important to them, tell their stories, and be themselves provides a powerful platform for SAs.
3. The Office of Institutional Research is looking at quantitative and qualitative data to help inform understanding academic outcome gaps among various subgroups of students.

Carolina Athletics believes in promoting diversity, inclusion and respect for others. We must create a welcoming environment for everyone and work to ensure that these values never waver or change. Recent events across our country have shown that we must be more intentional — as a department, and with each other.
